Our classically styled jacket features a refined fit, with a kimono-style front that has enough body to sit properly even without a closure. Of course you could add a fabulous button and loop, or use a gorgeous shawl pin as we did here. Merino Mia in Gradient Bayleaf becomes the basis for an array of colors that march from dark at the bottom to light at the top. Strong contrasting hues that also move from dark to light complete the dance. Exceptional fit points include gently tapered side seams, generous overlaps in front, and tidy set-in sleeves. Watch row counts carefully so all of the stripes match up at the seams!

It's the Bee's knees when Brigitte combines the graduated colors of Merino Mia Gradients in Forest with the multi-colors of Ginger. Shifting contrasts engage the eye as it travels from bottom to top; dark to light; with graphically changing dimensions along the way. Easy, straight shaping is framed by garter stitch bands in waves of color contributed by Ginger.

Gradually add chevron repeats and the fabric gracefully curves; we encourage that shaping with tapered ends and a reduced upper edge.

The result is a confection of whipped blue-green that flows upwards and curls around in seductive ends.

With multiple options for wearing, you'll want more than one!
